County May Purchase Machine and Riot Guns for Sheriff

Machine and riot guns are being considered by Milam county as arms equipment for the office of Sheriff Leonard Blaylock, it was announced.

Sheriff Coley White of Austin was scheduled to give a demonstration here soon. The Commissioners Court has been asked to purchase this equipment.

It is pointed out that the sheriff's department has only ordinary fire arms such as revolvers and rifles and shot guns. These weapons would be ineffective against modern gang warfare in the event the officers were called to deal with bandits.

Our Town

By J. B. White

That the public learned through the memorable depression years to be more discriminating, that people will demand quality and pay what they can afford; that merchants have learned to be more considerate of customers and to extend to them a heartier welcome, are conclusions of a committee of the National Retail Dry Goods Association which is considering on a long-range basis, methods of appeal through advertising.

The phenomenal statements of earnings by the large distributors and decline in failures of small retailers to the lowest point in a great many years prove the soundness of the President's advice to business men when, upon signing the recovery act, he asked that "first consideration be given improvement of operating figures by increased sales." He reminded them that "the pent-up demand of the people is very great" and they "need not fear lagging recovery," provided prices were not inflated beyond the actual margin of increased costs.

Minimum allowance for labor costs in the wholesale grocery trade was set at 2 per cent, and the retail grocery trade at 6 per cent of invoice or replacement cost, whichever is lower, after deducting legitimate trade discounts, exclusive of discounts for cash. NRA approved these figures as submitted by the code authorities and it is significant that the vote in favor of them as reported to the code authorities by all of the major divisions of the grocery distributing trade, including both the independently operated concerns and the multiple units, or chains, was unanimous.

Henry Ford's thesis, recently reiterated, that "when prices go up, business goes down," seems to have been in the minds of merchants who have passed out of the red ink into the black. This vital subject is discussed by the New Haven Register as follows:

"Those who are wondering how much the cost of setting the family table is going to increase from this point on have an answer from an unexpected source. It comes from the War Department and the Appropriations Committee of the House of Representatives. The current ration cost is 31.5 cents per day. In the new appropriation bill for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1935, the allowance for subsistence was increased to 35 cents. The anticipated increase, therefore, is less than ten per cent."

REPUTATION IS A BIG FACTOR IN BEER SALES

The success of Budweiser Beer proves that the public is prompt in accepting products of outstanding merit backed by an established reputation.

For the past 75 years Anheuser-Busch, Inc., of Saint Louis have been known the world over as producers of quality products exclusively. The world wide acceptance enjoyed by this famous St. Louis institution for over three-quarters of a century has been achieved solely on the rigid policy of the maintenance of superior quality, says Mr. Rube Johnson of the Rube Johnson Distributing Company, local Budweiser Beer Distributors.

This brewery, which is the largest in the world, never closed its doors or ceased operations during the 14 year period of prohibition. The equipment was continually kept up to the minute and beer, which was converted into legalized beverage, was brewed under government license all through the prohibition period.

Anheuser-Busch have consistently year in and year out, supported their dealers with legalized advertising through the newspapers. This year, as always, they are blanketing the country with newspaper advertising to run continuously through the height of the beer selling season. This advertising is hammering home the fact that the quality of Budweiser has set the standard measure for all bottled beers.

Anheuser-Busch officials report that they have orders for Budweiser beer from every civilized nation on the face of the globe. Such popularity could never be won with anything short of Budweiser quality. This quality combined with the support of newspaper advertising shows just what can be accomplished when a product of outstanding merit is backed by consistent newspaper advertising.

While the world is full of things that people want, it is up to the producers of these things to tell the people about them and in doing so, Anheuser-Busch is using the medium of newspapers, the medium most people read.

LINK AROUND WORLD TELEPHONE SERVICE

Last Gap, Between U. S. and Tokyo, Nears Completion.

Washington.—Around the world telephone conversation, linking men's voices in every important capital and commercial city is imminent, according to engineers.

Already the earth is completely inclosed by chains of telephone connections. From the United States men talk across the Pacific with Manila and across the Atlantic through Amsterdam, Berlin or Brussels to Manila again or eastern oceanic points.

But working connections through Tokyo and Shanghai to the United States and Oceania are still needed to provide the links between the last great centers of population.

Tokyo Link Being Speeded.

The principal missing link—between the United States and Tokyo—is rapidly being forged and probably will fit into the chain before the end of the year, according to engineers here. Some authorities expect it within two or three months.

"Tests have been conducted between the United States and Japan for about a year, indicating the prospect of regular service in the near future," Stanley Shoup, communications expert in the Department of Commerce, said.

During the last twelve months the United States opened telephone communications either for regular or special occasions with Russia, Venezuela, Manila, Guatemala, Panama, Costa Rica and Nicaragua. Earlier it opened communications with virtually every nation in Europe and South America and even with South Africa. In all, 52 nations are in telephone contact with each other, and every nation having more than 100,000 telephones, except Japan and China, is in part of some worldwide chain.

Work on Java Connection.

In addition to perfecting the connection between the United States and Japan, Japanese and Dutch engineers are perfecting the link between Tokyo and Bandoong in Java, which is the terminus of two chains to Europe and a junction between Europe, Australia and New Zealand. Manila and Bandoong are connected already.

All this development has come since March 10, 1876, when Alexander Graham Bell conversed in Boston with a companion seated in another room a few feet away. Most of the American international telephone development has occurred since 1922, when only Cuba and Canada were linked with the United States.

House of Lords Amazed at Convicts' Impudence

London.—Dartmoor prison has long been reckoned one of the toughest of British penal institutions. The prisoners mutinied there in 1932.

Now the bishop of Exeter thinks the trouble is that they do not have compulsory attendance at Sunday service.

Instead of going to chapel, the convicts lie on their beds and read novels, the bishop told the House of Lords. Rude songs were sung at the prison concerts, he charged.

Out of a total of 200 Church of England prisoners, the Sunday congregations often numbered only five, said the bishop.

And the growing tendency towards impudence in modern crime is reflected in the conduct of the prisoners. The prison chaplain received a threat that if he didn't make the concerts more amusing the prisoners would get him dismissed, said the bishop.

The bishop himself withdrew his application to hold a service for the inmates after the mutiny, when the governor told him that he could not be responsible for his safety.

Marsh, Once Large Lake, Yields Steamboat Relics

Horicon, Wis.—Horicon, at one time the site of the largest artificial lake in the country, upon which steamers navigated daily, has yielded up a number of old relics. In the exact center of the marsh, now a game preserve, bits of wreckage have been found which were identified with ships scheduled to arrive in port fifty years ago. In one spot parts of a large boiler surrounded by blocks of quarried stone indicate the conclusion of one voyage.

Two other vessels are known to have gone down in the lake. One, a scow, sank in July, 1857, when lightning struck it during a hurricane, killing three of the crew and seriously injuring the remaining thirteen. The other disaster occurred two years later, when the boiler of the steamer Winer exploded, killing two.

Student Drinking Drops With Dry Law Repeal

Milwaukee.—With the advent of repeal, student drinking has decreased noticeably, in the opinion of Charles Coburn, manager of the student union at Marquette university. His reason is that most students find the new liquor system a bit beyond their means.

Lights of New York

by L. L. STEVENSON

Naturally, many things get lost in New York. It is entirely possible and in fact quite easy, for a human being to lose himself from the millions so effectively that even the police can't find him. But when it comes to five tons of statuary that's something else again. Still two statues, of granite and eight feet in height, were lost and it took quite a lot of searching to find them. The statues used to stand in Bryant park. They were moved in 1932 to make room for the George Washington bicentennial exhibit which, as is well known, ended in the red and left Bryant park a mess of mud flats. Recently, citizens interested in the statues made inquiries about them. It was supposed they were stored in the library. But they weren't. So the park department looked into the matter. The statues couldn't be found. At last they were discovered over in Brooklyn.

The statues that got lost—and were found out in the open all wrapped up in canvas—are those of Washington Irving, who made Sleepy Hollow known to the world and who was New York's first park commissioner. When he is in his place, he looks down on Sixth avenue and Fortieth street. The other is that of Dr. James Marion Sims who founded the first hospital for women in New York. His statue is the work of Ferdinand von Miller and Irving's is the work of Frederick Beer. The two statues were placed in the park in 1894. Having been found, the next question is, how to get them back where they belong. The cost is estimated at $500 and just at the moment, though this city spends $2,000,000 a day, there isn't any $500 available. Also the new plan for the park doesn't seem to provide a place for them.

A group, sipping cocktails in the Park Central tropical room, was discussing the origin of the word hooch which isn't used so much now as it was a little while ago. One member declared that it came from the chemical symbols of tannic acid. He was hooted down because those symbols spell C11H12O10 when the numerals are omitted. Finally a gentleman strolled over and remarked that everybody, including the chemical adherent, was quite wrong. Hooch, he said, came from hoochinoc, which is Alaskan Indian bootleg. He knew because he used to live in Alaska. Instead of accepting an invitation to sit in, he excused himself and strolled away and that's all that was learned from or about him.

John E. Andrus, who used to be known as the "millionaire straphanger" because he rode from his home in Yonkers down to Wall street every morning, recently celebrated his ninety-third birthday. He gave up riding in the subway several years ago but still attends to business. He is the owner of the Arlington Chemical company in Yonkers and is in his office each day. Mr. Andrus has one hobby—helping needy children. He established a home for them in Yonkers some time ago and several years ago, set up a foundation for the home.

A friend just back from a business trip to Cleveland told me a story that gave me a chuckle. The Press of that city runs a comic strip, "Dolly Duck." For promotion purposes, one morning before the city was awake, 50 white ducks were turned loose in the streets. Each duck wore a card which read: "Be kind to Dolly Duck. Return me to my home with the Cleveland Press and you will receive $1 and can take me home." And by night, 65 ducks were delivered to the Press office.

Fifth avenue street scene: An imported limousine driven by a frozen-faced chauffeur in an expensive uniform. On the rear seat, a woman of the downer type with a sable wrap, a lorgnette and a haughty expression. Beside her, a laundered and ribboned Pom with what nose it had, in the air. And behind on the bumper two ragged urchins gleefully thumbing their noses at pedestrians as the car glided up town.

Cat Treks 39 Miles to Catch Its Ship

New York.—Capt. W. J. Close of the liner Pastores has a prize cat tale to tell.

As his steamer docked after a stormy voyage from West Indian ports, he related that the ship pet, "Lord Haggis," a female despite the name, was accidentally left at Port Morant, Jamaica, when the vessel put in to take on a cargo of bananas.

When the vessel arrived at Kingston, Jamaica, 39 miles from Port Morant, on its next voyage, the feline was on the dock awaiting it and calmly walked aboard as soon as the gangplank was let down.

Now the captain is trying to figure out how "Lord Haggis" knew where to catch the ship.

Four Die in Airplane Crash Near Dallas

Here is all that remains of a six-passenger Bellanca plane which fell in flames 20 miles northwest of Dallas Tuesday night, carrying four persons to death. The ship, carrying pleasure-bent passengers, ran into a violent electrical storm, faltered and nosed into a freshly-plowed field. All four were instantly killed. (Texas News Photos.)

MEDICAL ADVICE

If you want to

- ... relieve constipation safely
- ... regulate the dose to suit your exact need
- ... avoid danger of bowel strain

—use a liquid laxative

Can constipation be safely relieved? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" declare thousands who have followed their advice and know.

You are not apt to cure your constipation with salts, pills, and tablets, or any habit-forming cathartic. But you can relieve this condition just by gentle regulation with a suitable liquid laxative.

Why Hospitals Use
a liquid laxative

The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can be controlled. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Will not irritate kidneys. The right liquid laxative will bring a perfect movement, with no discomfort at the time, or afterward. The wrong cathartic may keep you constipated as long as you keep on using it.

In buying any laxative, read the label. If it contains a doubtful drug, don't take it. If you don't know what is in it, don't chance it. The contents of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is stated plainly on the label; fresh herbs, pure pepsin, active senna.

Its very taste tells you Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is wholesome. A delightful taste, and delightful action. Safe for expectant mothers, and children. Drug stores have it, ready for use, in big bottles.

When you pay the price of a Knee-Action car, you naturally want genuine Knee-Action and all that goes with it. You want the new gliding ride at its best. You want the huskiest, sturdiest front-end you can buy. And, of course, you want shock-proof steering. You pay for them all—but you get them all, in the low-price field, only from Chevrolet. The reason is simple. Fully-enclosed Knee-Action wheels are costly to build—so costly that only Chevrolet, world's largest builder of cars, can afford to make the necessary huge investment in new machinery—and still keep prices among the lowest of the low. Only Chevrolet has the resources and the assured volume of sales that permit this extra production cost. Chevrolet does it because Chevrolet believes that, to KEEP ON SELLING THE MOST CARS, YOU MUST KEEP ON BUILDING THE BEST.

How Cardui Helps Women

"Mal-nutrition" means that your body is not getting enough to keep it up, so that what it has to do is not done well. You may not be eating enough to keep up the work of the body, or there may be something wrong that keeps you from getting full value from the food you eat.

Because of mal-nutrition, some women have aches and pains every month. Such pains should not be neglected.

Take Cardui to give you a better appetite, to give you more strength from the food you eat—to build up and increase your feeling of well-being. Aches and pains go away as you build up with the help of Cardui.

FORD CAR OWNERS AT PLANT CROWD CAPACITY

Orders for more than 10,000 new Ford V-8 cars and trucks in excess of original commitments were received by the Ford Motor Company during the first ten days of April, it was announced today at the Hefley-Stedman Motor Company.

If the demand during the balance of the month continues at the same pace, the total of orders in excess of original commitments for the full month will run to 20,000 to 25,000 units, it was stated.

Sales during the month, it was pointed out, will be limited only by the company's present production capacity. Production is now running in excess of 90,000 cars and trucks per month and the total for April may exceed 100,000 units. The total, however, is wholly dependent upon the receipts from suppliers of an adequate quantity of parts, including bodies, and other materials.

The recent upturn in Ford orders is the result, it was stated, of a widespread increase in retail sales in all parts of the country, every section contributing.

One of the most favorable signs in its relation to the economic condition of the country at large is the increase in the rural districts. Reports from all parts of the country indicate that rural dealers, who have been more or less inactive for the last three years are again doing business on a scale comparable to 1929. Some of these reports that their volume of business thus far this year is greater than all of 1933.

No comment was forthcoming as to whether the increase in sales is attributable to the action of the Ford Company in maintaining the original list prices on the new 1934 V-8 cars and trucks in the face of the general increase in prices on the part of the industry or to the increase in public acceptance of the new Ford V-8 unit or both.

What's in a Name?

The late Andrew Carnegie said: "If you can sell a man a hat for one dollar, you can sell it for two dollars if you stamp it with your name and make the public feel that your name stands for something."

The man or woman who has a reputation that "stands for something" has little to worry about whether he is selling his services or hats.

TINY THINGS ODD FAD OF COLLECTOR

Microscopic Items Gathered by Seattle Man.

Seattle.—A verse from the Bible, containing 127 letters, written on a space of glass the size of a pin point and visible only with the aid of a microscope.

A hollow hazelnut containing 3,100 silver spoons.

A grain of rice engraved with 52 Japanese characters.

A seed half as large as your little finger nail containing 33 perfectly carved ivory elephants, visible only with the aid of a magnifying glass.

A one-thousandth-of-a-watt electric light globe that actually lights.

A motorcycle that runs with the aid of an electric motor and putt-putts like a real machine, yet so small that it may be hidden with the hand.

These are only a few of the 300-odd Hippiat items in the unique collection of Jules Charbneau of this city.

For 33 years Charbneau has been acquiring tiny things. His original acquisition was a 3-inch umbrella, which he obtained at the Paris exposition in 1900.

Most of his collection has been obtained on his three trips around the world. An insurance man by profession, he had perhaps half a hundred microscopic items in his collection when he took his first world jaunt. Since that time the collection has grown rapidly and Charbneau expects to add to it greatly next year when he starts a two-year world journey.

The collector believes he possesses the tiniest object ever made by human hands in the piece of glass containing the Biblical verse. He obtained the article from a friend, a New York business man whose hobby is the printing of minute characters. The words were cut with a diamond point.

Charbneau believes artists and artisans have lavished some of their best work upon miniature objects in a whimsical and oftentimes humorous way.

The collector says the hazelnut originally contained 5,000 spoons, but that nearly 2,000 have been lost through frequent handling.

Pheasant, Given Shelter, Turns "Dog in Manger"

McKean, Pa.—A cock pheasant that was allowed by Robert Meeker, of McKean, to stay in his chicken house repaid the kindness shown to him by fighting and nearly killing 30 White Leghorn cockerels. Mr. Meeker had found the pheasant in the chicken yard when the weather was 30 degrees below zero and gave the bird shelter in a chicken house where he had penned up 30 Leghorn roosters.

He was worried for fear the wild bird would be set upon by the cockerels. His fear was groundless. After the first day the pheasant was boss of the coop and before the end of a week it had assumed a dog in the manager attitude, refusing to allow the chickens to eat until he himself had all he wanted. The cold spell and Mr. Meeker's patience ending about the same time, the cock pheasant was driven out, and again peace reigns among the Leghorn roosters.

Inventory Helps Refit Valley Forge House

Valley Forge, Pa.—Guided by an inventory found by Albert Cook Myers, which lists the furniture of the home at the time George Washington occupied it, the Valley Forge park commission has refurbished the historic structure here.

The first President rented the little green and white shuttered house from Isaac Potts, a young clergyman, for six months in 1777.

The residence was erected in 1758 and was the most pretentious of any in the vicinity at the time. It was restored to its original condition as nearly as possible in 1887. The commission says that the home now looks exactly as it did when Washington lived in it.

Dervishes Attack Film Actors

Istanbul.—The film industry in Turkey had a most inauspicious debut at the holy village of Eyoub on the Golden Horn at Istanbul. Enraged by the "unholy" make-up on the faces of the actors and the operations of the camera men, a group of Bektashi dervishes attacked the company. They were pacified without any serious casualties.

Beware of Blonds! They Murder Most

London.—Gentlemen may prefer them, according to Anita Loos, but a British amateur criminologist asserts that blonds are more murderous than brunettes.

Paradoxically enough, however, Gilbert A. Foan, who also adds penology to his hobbies, estimates that brunettes are more criminally minded. In support of this, he points to the increase of crime in the big cities, and a corresponding increase in the number of persons who possess dark hair.

It had been thought, until comparatively recently, that the greater number of suicides occurred among the fair-headed. However, according to French Psychologist Duval, brunettes, when they take to killing, kill themselves. Whereas, he says, blonds tend more toward homicide.

Biographer of Lincoln Also Born in Log Cabin

Erie, Pa.—The log cabin origin of Abraham Lincoln probably was one reason why Ida M. Tarbell, a native of Erie county and considered the most famous woman in this district, devoted much of her writing to the Civil war President.

For Miss Tarbell herself was born in a log cabin—in Amity township, Erie county—seventy-seven years ago. Although she now lives in Bethel, Conn., and maintains an office in New York, much of her early life was spent in northwestern Pennsylvania during the stirring days of the oil "boom."

Miss Tarbell was the only girl in the freshman class at Allegheny college, Meadville, Pa., when she enrolled there with intentions of becoming a missionary. After graduation, however, she taught in an Ohio seminary, directed a small magazine, then turned to historical and biographical writing.

Yankee Colony in Paris Drops Off to Only 7,000

Paris.—Hard times have caused the "American City of Paris" to repatriate its "citizens" to the United States in such vast numbers that its size has decreased in the last four years from 20,000 to 7,000.

The remaining Americans are divided into three groups: Hardened long-timers and wealthy expatriates who have practically become French except for their passports; the "big chiefs" of American business houses still maintaining Paris offices (banks, importing firms, news agencies, purchasing branches, etc.), and Americans who, in A. E. F. veteran parlance, have a "life sentence"—or a French wife. This class is probably the greatest of all, numbering 3,000 (including husband, wife and children).

The American colony in Paris is down to its pre-war size and shrinking further.

Samoyed Dog Guards His

Reindeer Like Shepherd

The Samoyed, a semi-nomadic race of people living in northeastern Russia and Siberia—and from whom the dog derives his name—depend upon him for herding the reindeer that supplies their food and clothing, says an authority in the Los Angeles Times. Well protected from the snow and sharp ice by thick fur between the toes, which almost covers the black pads, his quick feet—propelled by straight, heavy-boned muscular legs, stiffles well down—carry him at good speed in driving and rounding up his charges. His speed and great endurance have also been advantageously utilized to furnish the sole means of transportation—for he is their sled dog—as important to their life as food and fuel.

Of the large family of Arctic dogs comprising the wolf-spitz or Pomeranian group that carry their chrysanthemum-like tails, pompon fashion, close to their backs—he has, however, little of the width of jaw that characterizes the chow and other Asiatic types. His powerful head is wedge shaped with a broad flat skull, muzzle of medium length and tapering forehead, into which black, intelligent eyes, wide apart, are deeply set. Rims encircling the eyes are likewise black, as are also the nose and lips.

With these exceptions, the dog, from the top of his sharp erect ears, well-haired inside and out, to the tip of his bushy tail, is pure snow white in color except for slight shading or spots of color that appear occasionally on the ears.

Earth Furnishes Source of Music for Bolivians

A land of sheer mountain peaks, with towns and villages situated so much nearer heaven than there never is heard a clamor for fresh air, Bolivia should live a life strangely apart, in some respects, from other corners of the globe.

The traveler roaming through the interior will find many strange things. One will hear music in an Indian village, but the music will not be as strange as the instrument. Close analysis will show that old Mother Earth basically furnishes the source of music. In New York you hear jazz bands with brass instruments—the brass furnished by Mother Earth. But in Bolivia the natives don't bother to dig below the surface. They shape their instruments from what grows out of the soil.

The sampuna is the favorite musical instrument of the Bolivians. It is made from varying sized reeds. It is a magnified form of a rondador so popular in Ecuador. Much of the music heard in the Indian villages in this region is of melodies handed down for centuries—bits of ancient Inca and pre-Inca tribal songs, chants used in making supplication to the sun god and melodies which accompanied the ritualistic dances given to placate the gods of the earth and the harvest.

The Fenians

Fenian, or Fenian society, is a popular name for the Irish Republic Brotherhood, or I. R. B., a political association of Irish-Americans organized for the overthrow of British authority in Ireland and the establishment of a republic. The name was derived from "fian," a company of legendary warriors in Ireland under the leadership of the mythical hero, Finn MacCumail. The modern Fenian movement, adopting the name of the ancient military association, had its first seat among the Irish population in America, which had largely increased since the great famine and exodus of 1846 to 1847. The society was founded in this country by John O'Mahoney in 1858. The principal object of the brotherhood was to supply money and arms to the Irish cause, and in this country the ability to bear arms was not a necessary qualification. The establishment of the Irish Free State removed the reason for existence of the brotherhood, and it is now practically extinct.

Beau Brummell

The real name of Beau Brummell was George Bryan Brummell. He was a splendid spendthrift, at one time a man of wealth, a dresser in exquisite taste, and the arbiter of fashion among the courtiers of the prince of Wales, with whom he was an intimate. Brummell was born in 1778. Early in life he managed to make the acquaintance of the prince and from that time his star was in the ascendancy. He had a fortune, which he spent lavishly. He maintained an extravagant establishment in London until his last penny was gone. For some time he lived on credit. Then, one by one, his friends deserted him. The prince turned against him, and he was obliged to flee to France in order to escape arrest for debt. After some years in wretchedness his mind failed him and he died in a hospital for mendicants in 1840.

First Theater in Capital

Aside from occasional performances given in Blodgett's hotel, which was at the southwest corner of Eighth and E streets, northwest, Washington had no playhouse in its first years. In 1803 a number of citizens met at Tunnell's tavern and planned the erection of the first theater in the city. It was built in 1804 on the northeast corner of Eleventh and C streets, and known as the Washington theater. Tunnell's was on the southeast corner of Ninth and Pennsylvania, southeast, and was founded in 1796.—Washington Star.

CURRY H. D. CLUB

The Home Demonstration Club of Curry met at the home of Mrs. Olan Hearn Friday, April 20th at 2 p. m.

Subject: "Preserve the spirit of Giving." Gifts from the yard is a wonderful way to remember friends, for when you look at the flower or tree, you will think of the one who gave it to you. Mrs. Leslie Boatright gave ideas for Mothers Day. Gifts you can make or a flower transplanted into a bright painted pot would linger long in the memory of mother.

The club will meet next on May 11 at two p. m. with Mrs. Jesse Coward. Subject: "Beautifying the Pantry."

QUICKER, BETTER RELIEF from use of Black-Draught

"I have taken Black-Draught, off and on when needed, for twenty-five years, for it is easy to take," writes Mr. George T. Wharton, of Petersburg, Va. "I take it for constipation and when I have that dull, tired feeling. I take it for colds and other complaints where a good laxative is needed, and I believe it gives me quicker and better relief than any other medicine I know. It certainly has been a help to me."

P. S.—If you have CHILDREN, give them the new, pleasant-tasting SYRUP of Thedford's Black-Draught.

Why Get Up Nights?

USE BUCHU AND GIN

Make This 25c Test

It is as valuable to the bladder as castor oil to the bowels. Flushes out impurities and excess acids which cause the irritation resulting in getting up nights, burning, frequent desire, leg pains and backache. On account of the alcohol in gin use juniper oil from which gin is made. Ask for Bukets, the bladder laxative also containing buchu leaves, etc. After four days, if not pleased your druggist will return your 25c. You are bound to sleep better after this flushing. Guaranteed by New Cameron Drug Company.

McCormick-Deering No. 7 Enclosed-Gear Mower

WE are anxious to have all of our friends see the New McCormick-Deering No. 7 Enclosed-Gear Mower. We think it is one of the finest pieces of farm equipment we have ever sold!

Everybody who has seen it says they never had any idea that a mower could be built as this one is.

For example: The entire operating mechanism, including drive gears, differential, and countershafts, is assembled compactly in an oil-tight gear housing and runs in a bath of oil. There are four high-grade roller bearings. Operation is so smooth and noiseless that you can scarcely hear the light hum of the sickle!

Special oil seals at the ends of the main axle and fly-wheel shaft, and the oil-tight gear box prevent leakage and protect all working parts against the entrance of dirt and other abrasive materials. Floating action of cutter bar provides ample play without disturbing knife registration.

(It was understood that a number of complaints had been filed from Cameron and that others were being prepared for filing. Complaint blanks can be had at the postoffice).

MOTHER OF EIGHT LEADS STORK DERBY

Likely Winner of Odd Race Says She Isn't Trying.

Toronto.—Ontario's celebrated ten-year "stork derby," purse of $500,000, looks like a walkaway for a contender who declares that she isn't even trying.—Mrs. Grace Bagnato, who has given birth to eight children since October of 1926.

The stakes in the "stork derby" were provided by Charles Vance Miller, K. C., prominent Toronto barrister, who died in October, 1928, and who bequeathed the bulk of his fortune to the Toronto woman who gives birth to the largest number of children in the ten years following his death.

With more than seven of the ten years now having passed and with the contenders rounding into the home stretch, Mrs. Grace Bagnato appears to have the inside rail position, always barring the possibility of triplets putting some "dark horse" into the lead.

Plans to Have More.

Runner-up to Mrs. Bagnato in the contest is Mrs. Florence Brown, who has had seven children since the race started, but who is today said to be falling behind.

Mrs. Bagnato, now only in her early forties, has given birth to 22 children, all told, and declares that, irrespective of the Miller trophy altogether, she expects to have two or three more before October of 1936. In fact, she insists that the $500,000 isn't even an inducement at all; although admitting that it, or even a slice of it, would come in very handy indeed.

"But we aren't thinking about the award, at all," insists the Italian matron, younger in appearance than her years. "We're just raising the family that we consider is our duty—and finding it mighty difficult sometimes. If we win the $500,000, it will be fine, wonderful; but if we don't it won't be any disappointment to us, for we aren't counting on it."

Several attempts have been made, in the past, to cancel the "stork derby," on the ground that Miller never seriously intended his estate to be so utilized. Several of his close associates declare that he only drew up the will in question as a joke, and that he intended to prepare a later testament, which would revoke it, but that he died suddenly, before having an opportunity to do so.

Upheld by Courts.

Regardless, however, of the spirit in which the testament may have been drafted, the Ontario courts have already ruled that it is a valid legal document.

The Ontario government, two years ago, moved to set the will aside on the ground that it was contrary to public interest, and to appropriate the estate, utilizing it for educational purposes.

A protest arose against such a step, however, with the result that the government abandoned its proposal. Soon afterward it became known that efforts had been made to "buy off" both Mrs. Bagnato and Mrs. Brown, and that certain unidentified men had offered them from $50,000 to $100,000 in cash to assign their rights to the estate. It was suggested, but not definitely established, that these offers might have been made on behalf of the government. Both Mrs. Bagnato and Mrs. Brown declined them, however, taking the stand that a bird in the hand is not worth two in the bush when the bird in question is the stork.

If Mrs. Bagnato—mother of 11 living children and as many more dead—wins the prize, one of the first things she plans to do is to adopt a child, she declares. Then she and her husband hope to buy a small farm, perhaps about 15 acres, on which to raise their family.

Germany Seeks Family Doctors, Not Specialists

Berlin.—Sweeping reforms in the training of medical students will be introduced into German universities this summer.

Hitherto, theory has been considered more than practice, and hours spent in the lecture hall, devoted to study of physiology, botany, chemistry and physics, were out of proportion to those the future doctor spent walking the hospitals.

It is urged that the small groups that form around the hospital patient's bed at the end of the medical course should begin earlier, and the general practitioner be the future ideal, instead of the specialist.

As matters stand today, the sick person who goes to a German doctor usually gets his case diagnosed, and is provided with the name of an expert who will undertake the treatment. In future there are to be fewer specialists and more general practitioners.

Comic Opera Is Making Strides Among Turks

Istanbul.—Turkish comic opera has made such rapid strides recently that it is getting into trouble with the educational authorities.

Complaints are made that it is interfering with the "serious treatise"—straight drama—and the educationalists have appealed to the new comic opera librettists and composers to cease production.

The governor of Istanbul, however, says that there is not enough money to be made as yet in Turkish straight drama, and so the lighter brand of the theatrical entertainment will continue.

CONNALLY NEEDED TO AID ROOSEVELT AGAINST REACTION, SAYS WRITER

From the days of the Republic, Texas voters have made it a point of pride to support for re-election the public servants who by fidelity to the common welfare and faithful performance of duty proved themselves worthy of continued confidence.

Senator Tom Connally of Texas, who has announced his candidacy for re-election, subject to the action of the Democratic primary next July is completing his fifth year of brilliant service in the United States senate. Prior to his election to the senate by a large majority in 1928, he served with conspicuous ability as a member of the house of representatives.

When Tom Connally first entered the senate, twilight was descending upon an era in American national politics marked by a sordid betrayal of the people, whose interests were sacrificed ruthlessly to satisfy the greed of unscrupulous barons of finance.

Senator Connally helped to bring this shameful era to a close. His tenure in the senate has embraced the beginning of the New Deal—which he helped to usher in—and its final crucial year.

The era of the New Deal is a happier era, marked by Herculean efforts to rescue the masses of the people from threatened economic slavery. Its central figure is President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who, on the basis of achievements in his crowded first year at the helm of state will rank as one of the greatest leaders of the industrial age.

Texas Contribution.

In the forthcoming Democratic Primary, Texas can contribute effectively toward a continuation of this great recovery program by nominating Senator Connally for a second term in the United States senate.

A native and lifelong citizen of Texas, I have sojourned in Washington for the past five years, covering the national capitol for the Houston Post, and later working as a member of the International News Service Washington staff, assigned to cover the senate. I have had occasion to observe closely the record and activities of every senator.

Senator Connally is held in the highest esteem by his colleagues and by Washington newspapermen because of his splendid character, high patriotism, signal ability, and vision as a statesman. He enjoys implicitly the confidence of the Roosevelt administration. He is admired universally for his courtesy and gracious hospitable manners, so typical of the great commonwealth he represents.

In the tangled mass of issues confronting congress, Senator Connally has adhered to a course of sane liberalism and championed consistently the interests of the masses. He has fought effectively against reactionary policies and the predatory drives of selfish special interests.

Sitting in the senate press gallery, I have watched him cast votes which he knew might alienate some of his supporters, but which his lofty sense of duty to the larger interests of the state and nation impelled him to cast.

I am proud of his record, proud of his ability and the deservedly high place which he holds as one of the ablest members and most gifted speakers in the senate.

Assignments.

The effectiveness of a senator in shaping legislation depends at least partially upon his committee assignments. Senator Connally is a member of the finance committee, the most important single committee of the senate. He also is a member of the foreign relations committee. His membership upon these and other committees is an asset of great value to Texas.

The dollar devaluation and gold measures with congress and President Roosevelt placed in effect as the backbone of the nation's new monetary policies were drafted originally by Senator Connally and adopted finally with only a few modifications. The senator formally offered this legislative program in congress at a time when America's economic structure was threatened by irreparable ruin, and when every sort of impractical panacea was being urged to ward off disaster. I recall vividly his address in the senate when these bills were first introduced. It was a masterpiece of logical reasoning. It made a profound impression among senators and attracted immediate and widespread support over the land.

This program, now praised by leading economists the world over, has rescued American currency and credit from the hands of unscrupulous Wall Street interests and restored control of the nation's fiscal policies permanently to the people.

Among the many notable pieces of legislation offered by Senator Connally and enacted by congress was the bill authorizing a $250,000,000 federal appropriation to place the cattle industry back on its feet. This new measure, which undoubtedly will prove of tremendous benefit to Texas live stock raisers and dairy-men, was ably championed in the house by Representative Marvin Jones of Texas. The two men share its authorship and the honor of securing its passage.

Veterans' Benefits

Senator Connally is the only present member of the senate who served both in the Spanish-American and world wars. As a veteran of these two conflicts, he has worked tirelessly to help his former comrades in arms. He has voted for veterans' benefits in all instances where, in his belief, their demands were just and the nation's financial condition permitted additional appropriations.

It required great moral courage for Senator Connally to vote in favor of sustaining the President's veto of the independent offices bill, carrying increased appropriations for veterans' relief. As a world war veteran, I admire him for courage and strongly believe that he followed the right course. The amount of additional benefits gained by the veterans through the action of congress in over-riding the veto was not large. The danger to national recovery through loss of public confidence in the ability of the Democratic party to maintain a solid front during the nation's worst crisis was, and is, tremendously large. It is highly significant that every senate Republican and all except two house Republicans voted against the president. Included among these Republican members were a number, who, when their own party was in power and the treasury held a big surplus, bitterly fought every proposal for more liberal treatment of veterans.

It was apparent that the real impetus back of the movement to over-ride the veto originated in a reactionary Republican plot to impair public confidence in the president and wreck the administration.

Reactionaries.

With the recovery from depression proceeding steadily as a result of the heroic measures placed in effect by President Roosevelt and congress, the very interests which brought America to the brink of ruin are re-asserting themselves. They can regain power only by destroying or seriously impairing public confidence in the Roosevelt administration and in the liberal, fearless members of both political parties who have fought the people's battles along with our great chief executive.

The danger of successful reactionary movement is more real and immediate than the people seem to realize. This movement cannot hope to succeed by frontal attack. It must work by roundabout ways; creating dissension and strife here, raising doubt and suspicion there, poisoning the public mind and employing the vast monetary and propaganda resources of its sponsors to becloud the real issues. There are many indications that the movement already is under way.

In my belief, the people of America must stand squarely behind President Roosevelt and crush the reactionaries all along the line. The fortunes of every state and its citizens are jointly involved. Only by loyal support of the president—a support justified by the very real perils of the hour—can America be safeguarded against economic collapse and the subsequent destruction of its great free institutions.

Texas needs Senator Connally in Washington to protect its own interests and to further the recovery program generally. It is my earnest hope that he will be renominated overwhelmingly, and that all his friends will work in his behalf while he attends to public duties in Washington.

If too little air is used, the cross section assumes a "squat" shape like this:

he saw fit to retire from office in Cameron. Mr. Tyson will begin at once an active campaign and will meet with voters in all sections of the county to discuss with them his campaign.

There are hundreds of people in Milam county with whom Mr. Tyson is personally acquainted. They know his qualifications and fitness for this office. For the benefit of those who may not be familiar with his impressive record, it is pointed out that when Mr. Tyson first came to Cameron from his old home at Maysfield he was employed by the Milam County Abstract Company.

For two years after his service with the abstract firm, he served as deputy county clerk under Jeff T. Kemp and in September of 1907 he succeeded Hon. J. O. Newton who later became Adjutant General under Governor Campbell, as chief deputy in the office of County Tax Collector. Tyson held this responsible place as first assistant until 1914 when he resigned to take the office of City Tax Assessor and Collector. For several years Mr. Tyson was privileged to serve the City of Cameron in another responsible place, that of secretary of the city school board.

Mr. Tyson's impressive record of service in these places give him immediate knowledge of all matters pertaining to the office he seeks. Having had experience in this work by actual years of service, his friends urge that he possesses qualifications the people of the county will welcome in this office.

Mr. Tyson is a staunch Democrat, has always voted the ticket and never scratched a nominee of a Democratic Primary. He has always given support to the party and is running for this office as a Democrat.

On January 1, of 1935 the offices of Assessor and Collector of Taxes will be combined under terms of an amendment to the Constitution. This will be at the beginning of the new term of office. When these offices are consolidated one official will serve as both assessor and collector. The office under the new dispensation will be one of the most important in the county and is certain to carry greater responsibility and require more ability than heretofore.

In discussing this responsibility, Mr. Tyson said: "In my opinion when the two offices are combined and the organization perfected the office will be one of, if not the major office of the county government. I am conscious of the fact that to carry on the work in an efficient manner and to dispatch, as has been done by previous collectors and the present one, your tax matters properly, that it will be a very difficult task and a tremendous responsibility."

Based upon his experience and qualifications, Mr. Tyson submits his candidacy to the people and asks their help. He would give them an honest, responsible and efficient administration of the affairs of this office.

Crippled Children Seal Sale Moving Forward in Milam

The White Cross Seal Campaign in the interest of Crippled Children is enlisting the active service of boys and girls, men and women throughout the nation.

The month of April, filling all living beings with vigor, is well-chosen as a time for helping childhood and youth, crippled by accident or disease.

Clinics are revealing the fact that infantile paralysis has in many instances been the cause of the crippled condition, and our State Board of Education, acting with the Texas Society for Crippled Children, takes the lead in our efforts to relieve this situation.

Rural schools in the county are showing a fine interest in public service not only by selling their first allotment of seals and asking for more, but in one instance bringing eggs to be sold by the teacher, that the needed financial help might be earned.

Milam County's Churches, Schools and other organizations are co-operating with the County Child Welfare Board in this movement to make our handicapped youth more happy and helpful citizens.
